

JAPS' ADVANCE IS DELIBERATE

Oyama Pushes His Troops Forward According to a Well Developed Scheme

OUTPOSTS ARE IN CONSTANT TOUCH

Skirmishes Are Frequent Occurrences, the Russians Now Having the Best of the Arguments in This Line.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—Movements at the front, so far as disclosed by the meager dispatches received, are confined almost to continuous outpost skirmishes by means of which Gen. Kourapatkin is keeping in close touch with the Japanese along the whole of their front. Field Marshal Oyama's advance appears to be extremely deliberate. There are no indications as yet that he has begun to overlap Russian positions.

It is reported that the superiority of the Russian cavalry is beginning to be apparent. The czar's troops have had the best of it in a number of minor encounters.

It appears that Gen. Rennenkampf's movement to the southward Sept. 19 extended beyond the distance indicated by first reports. His Cossacks made a rapid sweep Sept. 22 and struck a Japanese force at Benelhu, threatening its communications and causing considerable excitement.

Russian reinforcements are rapidly arriving at Mukden and many convalescents are already returning to duty. It is reported that Gen. Kourapatkin has made a requisition upon the authorities here for additional officers to make up the heavy losses in killed and wounded in the battle of Liao Yang.

Reports Constant Fighting.

A dispatch received from Gen. Kourapatkin, dated Sept. 27, announces that numerous skirmishes had occurred along most parts of the Russian front. The Japanese had not altered their positions east of the railroad, but confined themselves to outpost attacks to the north, all of which had been repulsed. Reconnoissances by the Russian troops had established the fact that the main Japanese forces were still along the branch railroad to the Yental mines. Both sides were in constant contact. Gen. Samsonoff's troops particularly had frequent encounters, but sustained few casualties. The Russians had captured some Japanese cattle and horses. The Japanese had constructed pontoon bridges over the Taisse river at Pensi and troops were crossing rapidly.

"The night of Sept. 26," adds Gen. Kourapatkin, "Colonel Mikheeff, with a detachment of Ural Cossacks, attacked the Japanese bivouacked at Khoundol, causing a great panic. The same day the Orenburg Cossacks laid an ambush for half a squadron of Japanese cavalrymen, who returned their fire, but soon retired, having sustained considerable loss and leaving several dead on the field."

Chinese May Cut Railroad.

The statement that the Japanese in any force have crossed the Hun river about fifty miles from Mukden is denied. There is no evidence that the Japanese turning movement is nearly so extended. The only Japanese at this point are scouts.

The report from Tientsin that a large force of Chinese bandits north-west of Mukden is preparing to cut the railroad is not taken seriously by the Russian authorities. Not the slightest doubt is entertained at the war office that the railroad guards will be able to protect the line. Undisciplined Chinese hordes, however, are numerous.

Tombs Will Not Stop Russians.

Summing up the war situation, the military expert of the Russ says it is evident from all indications at the front that the Japanese are engaged in a big turning movement on the eastward. This would give them the advantage, as heretofore, of operating largely in the mountains, to which their artillery is better suited than for movements in the open. But in the present movement the units of the Japanese army are necessarily losing touch with one another. Their strategic position is therefore less satisfactory than at Liao Yang. The Russ says it is a question whether a decisive or even serious engagement will occur at Mukden. Such an event will depend entirely on General Kourapatkin's view of the exigencies of the situation. "However, one may rest certain," the paper adds, "that the sentimental question of violation of the Chinese tombs will not weigh with the Russian commander."

Port Arthur Entirely Cut Off.

The information received at the war office concerning the situation at Port Arthur is not reassuring. The blockade at last seems to be effective. Admiral Togo's ships are arresting all the junks which try to enter the harbor and are sending them to Port Dainy. It is feared that this complete isolation may react on the spirits of the garrison.

Reports Jap Ships Sunk.

A dispatch from Vladivostok says that according to reports from Port Arthur two Japanese torpedo boats and a Japanese steamer have been sunk by mines near Port Arthur during the last few days. A Japanese cruiser of the Nitaka type, it is added, was badly damaged.

DIPHTHERIA RAGES IN MADISON NOW

Epidemic of the Dread Disease Has Appeared in the Capital City.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—An epidemic of diphtheria is raging in the ninth ward in this city as a result of unsanitary conditions in the schoolhouse in that section of the city. Five children are sick and the disease is rapidly spreading. The cause of the epidemic is an imperfect sewerage system in the school building. The city has taken no steps to remedy the evil. The city physician investigated the matter and reported that the disease did not have its origin from the defective sewer. Parents of the children attending the school are indignant on account of the city's failure to act promptly in the matter.

Louis Mazentur, aged 23, residing in Hartford, Conn., was shot to death at the slaughter-house at Wilson's station, three miles north of Hartford. He went to the slaughter-house with a rabbit to butcher beef. The rabbit had an altercation with an unknown hunter, who, aiming his gun at the rabbit, shot Mazentur.

SLAVE FLANKED; MUKDEN IS A DOOMED STRONGHOLD

Kuroki's Wide Circling Movements Beat the Russian's Line Into the City.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Sinmintun, Sept. 29.—General Kourapatkin has succeeded in turning the Russian flank, according to reports received here last night, and Mukden is doomed.

The Russian cavalry under Rennenkampf was unable to withstand the Japanese advance, and Kuroki's advance guard is said to be well to the north of the Russian position and twenty miles to the east of the railroad, toward which he is pushing as rapidly as possible.

The fact that there has been an increase in activity by the Japanese center and left wing is taken as an indication that there is truth in the reports.

The weather indications point to an early and severe winter. The weather already is cold and some snow has fallen in the mountains north-east of Mukden. The Japanese are much better prepared for cold weather than the Russians.

The railroad between Yinkow and Liaoyang is in full operation and is being used to its utmost capacity for the transportation of troops and ammunition for the Japanese army. A number of small steamboats are using the Liao and Hun rivers for the same purpose. Liaoyang has been cleaned up and put in condition to be used as a winter base for the Japanese army.

THE BEAR—I do hope that old man Time will save me! Russia does not expect to be able to do much against Japan until next year. By that time it is expected that Japan will be crushed.—News Item.

CONNECTICUT WAS LAUNCHED TODAY

Slips From the Ways and Is Officially Christened This Morning.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Brooklyn Navy Yard, Sept. 29.—Amid the cheers of thousands and the waving of flags and booming of cannon the battleship Connecticut, designed to be the best and most impressive of fighting machines afloat, was successfully launched at 11:16 this morning. NOTED EDUCATOR DIED RECENTLY

Prof. Allen, Who Started Coeducation at University, Dies in California.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—Prof. Charles H. Allen, through whose efforts women were admitted to attend the University of Wisconsin, died at his home in San Jose, Cal. He was a native of Pennsylvania and came to Wisconsin under Chancellor Barnard in 1879 to aid in normal work. He was later appointed normal agent by the normal regents and conducted the first teachers' institutes in Wisconsin under their direction. In 1883 he was placed in charge of the normal department of the university. He was chosen first president of the Platteville normal school and remained in that position until 1873. He then went to California and became president of the San Jose normal school which position he held for 13 years.

PLAN MERGER OF BIG ROADS

Northern Securities Settlement May End In Favorable Decision Suitable to All.

HILL TO GET GREAT NORTHERN

Other Lines Are To Be Taken Care of in a Manner Which Will Please All Those Interested.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 29.—Interest in railroad circles is centered in the story of a proposed plan for the settlement of the Northern Securities dispute coupled with a prediction of the formation of a new "community of interest" practically unlimited in its scope. No confirmation of any of the report was obtainable, but its probability was increased by the conferences now going on in New York. These conferences are attended by James J. Hill, E. H. Harriman, J. Pierpont Morgan, A. J. Cassatt, E. J. Berwind and several of the most influential railroad officials in the country.

Basis of Settlement.

According to the story that obtained in Chicago, the following is the basis of the proposed settlement of the Northern Securities litigation and of the Hill-Harriman-Morgan dispute: Union Pacific to take over Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and by that route come direct to Chicago.

James J. Hill to take back his Great Northern road.

The Northern Pacific to be taken over by a through line to the Pacific coast by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Erie to be made a through transcontinental line from coast to coast, under Harriman-Rockefeller control.

Outlet for Atchison.

It was stated that in addition to these moves, which will all be in a manner indicating friendly relations, the community of interest will provide an "Eastern" outlet for the Atchison, a deal in which it is believed the Pennsylvania, New York Central and others in the East figure, as well as Morgan and Hill. The latter are strong in Erie, and the proposition to make the Atchison and Erie a joint through line from coast to coast is said to be for the mutual benefit of all.

The sharp advance in Northern Securities shares, following similar rapid and substantial advances in the price of Union Pacific, Atchison, Erie and St. Paul, all within a short time, and due to heavy accumulation of these shares by important banking interests, is taken by brokers to indicate the consummation of some such deal, but they do not undertake to either confirm or deny the details.

Roswell Miller's Opinion.

Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, who returned to New York from attending the annual meeting of the stockholders, held in Milwaukee, declared that the matter of building an extension of its lines to the Pacific coast did not come up at the annual meeting.

Mr. Miller says that general conditions in the Northwest are favorable. The wheat crop is not as good as was expected earlier in the season, but that the corn crop will be about 2,000,000 bushels, and that railroad business will be fair. "Because of the high prices," he would not be surprised to see a large movement of grain this fall, but he expects that the tonnage will fall off somewhat next year.

SUSPECT IS CLEARED OF KILLING HIS WIFE

Woman Pension Agent Solves Mystery and Exonerates Many After Twenty-Three Years Have Passed.

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 29.—After a lapse of twenty-three years to the exact day, Miss Julia Michael, a pension agent at Dowagiac, succeeded in solving the mystery which apparently surrounded the death of Mrs. Matthew Brimlingstool of this city. From the tales told by her children, Matthew Brimlingstool was suspected of having killed his wife. Miss Michael has found that Mrs. Brimlingstool died a natural death.

Miss Michael has just written the police department here that she found a brother of Mrs. Brimlingstool, who says she died at his house in Cass county, Michigan, September 26, 1881, while she and her family were visiting him. Miss Michael's unravelling of what was supposed to have been a murder was brought about during her search for proofs of the death of the first wife of Matthew Brimlingstool to perfect the application of the second widow for pension.

ZENO HOST IS TO CHANGE THE RATES

Thinks Fire Insurance Rates in Wisconsin Are Much Too High at Present.

Insurance Commissioner Zeno M. Host of Wisconsin believes that the people of the state are paying altogether too high rates for fire insurance. He is of the opinion that fully one third of the fires which occur are of incendiary origin. He suggests that the state authorities, through the legislature, should enact effective laws such as the fire marshal law, for the discovery and punishment of incendiaries. Mr. Host says that many fires are kindled by over-insured parties as a method of stealing from the insurance companies and in making rates the companies must take this fact into consideration. Special investigation by an officer, he thinks, would greatly reduce the incendiary fires. To show that the people in Wisconsin are paying too high rates Mr. Host quotes the average rate of premium collected by five insurance companies in five states last year as follows: Massachusetts, 1.02; Minnesota, 1.48; Iowa, 1.54; Wisconsin, 1.68, and Connecticut, .98.

LOOK FOR A DECISION BY FRIDAY MORNING NOW

Supreme Court Decision in the Ticket Case Is Not Yet Decided—More Delay.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—Chief Justice Casaday is still absent from the sitting of the supreme court today and a decision on the state ticket case has not yet been handed down.

Predictions as to when the decision will come are almost impossible, as no judge of the court will discuss the matter. The impression is gaining, however, that there will be a decision this week and that it will be handed down Friday. It seems pretty well settled also that there will be a written opinion, which will be the work of Chief Justice Casaday. Although remaining at home he is not seriously ill. He was driving yesterday afternoon and the belief is growing stronger he is writing the decision at his home.

The fact that when the court adjourns Friday it will be Oct. 11 at the earliest and possible until Oct. 14 or Oct. 18, strengthens the belief that a decision will come this week, as the judges are fully aware of the public demand for an immediate decision in the state ticket case and believe that public policy requires the decision shall be rendered as soon as possible.

It is now definitely known that no opinion in the case had been written yesterday morning and that none as yet has been submitted to the court for its final approval. This makes it almost certain that Chief Justice Casaday is to write the opinion, as if any other justice had written it, the opinion could have been ready yesterday and would undoubtedly have been handed down.

The only spectators in the court room yesterday morning were the staff correspondents of the city papers, of which there are a large number at Madison.

That there would be no decision from the supreme court yesterday in the state ticket case was rendered certain at noon, when the court adjourned until today, it having been able yesterday morning to complete its calendar for the day.

STRANGLING CATARRH.

PARALYSIS!

No Help! No Hope!

Nutriola & Nature

RESTORED PERFECT HEALTH.

Bangor, Maine, Jan. 18, 1904.

Nutriola Co., Chicago, Ill.

I am glad to learn that you are about to put the Nutriola remedies, that brought such a wonderful cure in my case, upon the market. I have long wondered how you could let them be known to the world. You will perhaps recall that I was one of the supposed INCURABLE cases that you treated in the summer of '96.

I feel it my DUTY to acquaint others with the facts regarding my recovery, hoping it may be of benefit to some one.

At the time I commenced treatment with Nutriola I had been GIVEN UP TO DIE by the doctors and my friends.

My left side was PARTIALLY PARALYZED. I had no use of my left foot, and but very little of my left arm. Combined with this was a CATARRH of the bladder. There was a constant dripping in my throat WHICH I could not stop. I was sometimes NEARLY STRANGLING myself with the mucus in my sleep, and an offensive discharge from my nostrils, that made life a burden to myself and those about me.

In this condition I commenced using

NU-TRI-OLA

You gave me the "Special" preparation. I used it for a few days, and I saw but little effect. I began to feel a little better, but I was still in the same condition. I was so weak that I could not walk without assistance, and the discharge from my nostrils and dripping in my throat had become more and more offensive.

In all I used 10 boxes of Nutriola. Several boxes of Granules, one Electric Discharge, and one of following your directions faithfully. I was restored to perfect health.

I sleep at night like a child, enjoy life and am now as strong as ever. I was once a paralytic without hope of recovery. I am now as strong as ever.

I am now as strong as ever. I am now as strong as ever. I am now as strong as ever.

MRS. MARY A. BROWN.

The Halo of Motherhood.

The halo of motherhood is a divine thing, we all know it, and we all appreciate it. It is a halo of love, of sacrifice, of self-denial, of unselfishness, of purest devotion. It is a halo that makes a woman a mother, and a mother a woman. It is a halo that makes a woman a mother, and a mother a woman. It is a halo that makes a woman a mother, and a mother a woman.

MOTHER'S FRIEND,

a liniment dedicated to the easing of parturition and its accompanying suffering.

It is applied externally, and the results following its use are nothing short of marvelous. "A friend in need is a friend indeed," that's what Mother's Friend is. Sold at all drug stores for $1.00 per bottle. Send for our book, "Motherhood," free if you ask.

An Opening Exhibit of Fashion's most original artistic types in

Fall and Winter Millinery

Wednesday, Sept. 28. Thursday, Sept. 29.

An admirable collection of the season's choicest modes selected by Miss O'Neill during the past few weeks from the leading lines of New York and Chicago Importers.

There is an elegance and individuality to our millinery which appeals to fashionable women. This season where so much depends upon artistic effect and blending of colorings, the true merit of the artist is readily recognized in these splendid creations. Miss O'Neill is ably assisted by two trimmers, Miss Cummings and Miss Keating, who spent some time in the Chicago pattern rooms.

Also on these days a special display of new Mannish Suits, Tourist Coats, Separate Skirts and Waists—an exposition of the styles that will be in favor during the coming season.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 25th, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected John C. Spooner, J. V. Quarles, J. W. Babcock and Emil Baensch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

THIRTY REASONS WHY.

Here are thirty reasons why I, an old line democrat, will not vote for Alton B. Parker, but will vote for Theodore Roosevelt for president, who has been tried and found honest and true:

1. Having voted the democratic ticket for fifty years, with the exception of Lincoln and McKinley, I could not vote for Parker, the doubtful political product of David B. Hill and W. J. Bryan.
2. Parker voted for Bryan twice and swallowed Bryan with his platform of every vagary and ism, including the 16 to 1 fraud.
3. Parker's views were never known on any national question before his nomination.
4. On the question of gold standard a telegram was necessary to explain his views.
5. The platform was silent upon gold as the candidate had been.
6. The platform was the play of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out.
7. Gassaway Davis was a silver and a Bryan man. What if he should be elected with Parker and Parker should die? Would Davis favor silver again, and thus bring panic and disaster?
8. The great fathers of the old democracy are dead or have left the party with a few mournful relics of the past, who faltered, stumbled, and bolted the platform and leaders of the so-called democracy in 1896 and 1900.
9. David B. Hill, always a political trickster, his gang, and W. J. Bryan's gang met in convention, both mutually hating honest Grover Cleveland and his followers, and hating each other as the devil hates holy water. As Mrs. Roland said going to her execution in Paris: "Oh, liberty, what crimes are committed in thy name!" An eagle found a serpent in his nest. He asked: "How came you here?" The serpent answered: "I crawled here." Bryan, the serpent, who drafted the democratic platform of 1896 and 1900, crept into the eagle's nest of the old, proud, grand gold democracy and put in among his vagaries his free riot and 16 to 1 frauds, and the bliss of his hate and the deadly poison of his presence are still felt and seen in the platform of St. Louis, 1904.
10. Hill made Parker a candidate, Hill and Bryan juggled the platform. Hill said, "No 16 to 1." Bryan said, "No gold." What a shameful specacle—enough to make angels weep. These were the two leaders of the democracy gambling, one for a candidate, the other for a platform, at the St. Louis convention. They both won, and the public lost. They boast of their cunning. The fox is cunning, but his hide goes to the hatter at last.

Hill and Bryan Discredited.
11. I put these two politicians and their records on the scaffold of public opinion. There let them rest. I understand Hill is going to retire for the welfare of the party. The party seems to say: "Stand not upon the order of your going, but go quickly."

12. Who was Parker? Nobody knew. Bryan said in a speech in Chicago before the St. Louis convention: "I can prove to every unbiased mind that Judge Parker is not a fit man to be nominated either by the democratic party or by any other party that stands for honesty and fair dealing in politics. I cannot hope to convince those who favor deception and fraud in politics, but I am satisfied that we now have evidence sufficient to convict Judge Parker of absolute unfitness for the nomination."

13. What has he done? Nothing.
14. What has his party achieved in forty years since the war? Nothing.

15. It has advocated everything bad and opposed everything good. Parker a Do-Nothing.

16. What has he done or said politically? Nothing.
17. What has his party done politically for forty years, or since the war, when one-half of the party, "the solid South," was trying to destroy the government of the United States? Nothing.

18. Who is Roosevelt? President of the United States.
19. What has he done with his party?

20. He has made the government of the United States the greatest nation in the world. Powerful on land and sea; the people happy and prosperous and the dinner-pail kept full.

21. Do the people want a change? The epitaph on the tombstone was: "I was doing well, I wanted to do better—here I am."

22. In the change of administration in 1892 fires in the factories were put out, 350 national banks failed. Failures in business amounted to $400,000,000. Two million men were out of work. The poorhouses and jails were filled and wives and children crying for bread.

23. Workingmen, do you want such a change?

24. Business men, do you want such a change? Farmers, how are you?

Praises Acts of Roosevelt.
25. What has been done in Roosevelt's administration? The Alaskan boundary settled in our favor, a great victory, giving us nearly all the territory fronting the sea. Cuba freed and given independence. Cuban reciprocity with us settled.

26. The great interoceanic canal of the isthmus of Panama, talked about since 1828, is to be owned and built after nearly 400 years of diplomacy and opposition by foreign powers, wise Solomons, and home demagogues. The question of building, who by, and when, was settled by President Roosevelt. It is to be built, owned and controlled by the United States. The democrats, as usual, held back and kicked in mule style. But it is settled now and forever, thanks to the intelligence, energy and courage of President Roosevelt.

The Panama canal will be worth in the great future thousands of millions to the United States. It, while protecting the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, makes the Pacific and American ocean and the Philippines its Gibraltar, and we can defy the world. The democracy would give up the Philippines to an Aguinaldo to fall by bribery or war into some foreign power's hands. The republican party has made the islands to blossom like the rose and the people happy and fast becoming good citizens instead of the treacherous, ignorant, barbarous people we found there. The republican party will not give up a pebble on the shores of those islands. The Panama canal and the Philippines of today are the twin productions of the republican party.

Coal Strike Settled by Roosevelt.
27. The Pennsylvania coal strike, which affected millions of men, women and children who cried from cold and hunger, was settled by President Roosevelt.

28. Wages are greater than ever, and greater than in any other land.

29. The gold standard has been made permanent and business is conducted on a solid, firm, unchangeable basis. We have the best currency and the most of it in the world. We loan to the nations from whom we used to borrow. In fact, we have from our commerce and great resources money to burn, prosperity established, commerce developed, labor protected and given ample employment and reward, intelligence, prosperity and good government established in distant islands, and the flag of the United States made the emblem of honor in every part of the world.

30. Napoleon at the pyramids said: "Forty centuries look down upon us." Let us look down less than half a century, since the war, and see the changes wrought by the republican party in the progress and happiness and wealth of the people. Shall the government be preserved? Shall the republic live, prosper and progress? The dangers of expansion will prove as unreal as Macbeth's "dagger of the mind," and as visionary as Hamlet's father's ghost. The Canadas will drop to us when ripe. We will have no more wars in this generation; we want no new conquests; we want no more lands east or west save as they may come in interest in duty, and for protection.

Republican Party Always Right.

This government founded upon liberty to all and upon eternal justice, with God overhead, its people honest, industrious and intelligent, will last so long as the great, grand principles of the republican party today are successful. And above its grand cluster of states, filled with countless great cities, where spires sparkle like diamonds in the morning's sun; above vast fields, broad as the ocean, waving with grain to feed the world; above its roar of manufactures and the loud, never ceasing hum of business; above a splendid and a glorious land, out rivaling in grandeur, wealth, and power the empires of the old world, I see in the sky the emblem; not like that which appeared to Constantine the Great, namely, "In this sign conquer," but those other higher, grander, holier words, as if written by God himself: "Peace on earth and good will to man." And I hear the songs of praise to Almighty God uttered on the Atlantic shore by millions at morn, and over this broad land by millions more echoed back from the Pacific at eve.

"As Jura answers from her misty shroud Back to the joyous Alps who call her aloud."

The intelligence, wealth, progress and honest labor of the United States are in the republican party.

Vote for Roosevelt!
WILLIAM L. MITCHELL.
An Old Time Democrat.

Mr. Mitchell is well known in Janesville and his reasons for deserting democracy will be read with interest by his old-time friends. They were recently published in the Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

Senator Whitehead is campaigning in the La Crosse district in the interests of Senator Gurney. The governor is also devoting his time to the same territory and doing all that he can to defeat the La Crosse senator, who, like Senator Whitehead, does not endorse his visionary schemes.

The governor has absorbed so much attention during the campaign that the legislature has gone by default. The conservative element of the party has satisfied itself by declaring that no active campaign would be inaugurated until after the decision of the supreme court, and so the governor has had the field to himself, and he has not been slow to take advantage of the situation.

As a result the chances are that Senator Quarles has lost his opportunity to go back to the senate. While it is true that the cheapest kind of consolation is contained in the statement, "I told you so," yet it is true that many republicans throughout the state have long felt that an active campaign should have been waged all summer in the interests of the next legislature.

The legislative branch of government is more important than the executive, and when it was known that the governor proposed to do all in his power to defeat the candidates who are not in sympathy with him, every county in the state should have followed the lead of Rock county and by early conventions and intelligent organization placed their candidates in the field.

If the speaking campaign inaugurated by Mr. Jeffris had been started soon after the Chicago convention, there would be no question about the next legislature and a court decision would not be necessary to determine whether La Folletteism is republicanism. If Senator Quarles is defeated, Senator Spooner humiliated, and Congressman Babcock worried, they may find consolation in sharing responsibility for neglect.

A forged letter addressed to Michael Donnelly and signed President Roosevelt, has just been published in the Miners' Magazine, of Denver, Colorado, and is being circulated as a campaign document in the western states. The president pronounces the letter a rank forgery and no effort will be spared to capture and punish the guilty party.

The Chicago Federation of labor has lost 100,000 members during the past two years, so says E. N. Nuckels, secretary of the organization, and as a result the fight against the open shop is likely to be abandoned. This is a sensible thing to do, and if the policy is adopted, organized labor will be benefited.

Who is responsible for the condition of the streets where sewer pipes are being laid? South Main street has been torn up for two weeks, much to the detriment of business. The public has some rights which should be observed.

The McCormick reaper works are again running on a ten-hour day, and the supply of labor is largely in excess of demands. The open shop policy is adopted.

One of the most reliable friends that a man has in this world is money. There is a multitude of people who fail to appreciate this fact, and who run up against the age limit destitute of friendship.

The sugar beet factory is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be in running order. The beet crop is good and the output of the factory the first year promises to be large.

It is reported that eleven democratic millionaires have subscribed $1,000,000 each to elect Parker and the democratic national ticket. That's a liberal campaign fund but it will be wasted this year.

Neither capital nor labor ever had a better friend in the White House than President Roosevelt. He believes in the supremacy of law and proposes to enforce it.

When a governor can secure commodity rates, the poor miller ought to have some privileges.

The governor's automobile is an expensive toy. A $55 train discounts it for both speed and economy.

It is always safe to attack a man who has been as long dead as Senator Sawyer.

PRESS COMMENT

Green Bay Gazette: They are going to hold another peace congress at The Hague. Probably to consult over the Wisconsin case.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is claimed that Dr. Dowle is planning to ride into Jerusalem on a white ass. Two of a kind, as it were.

Milwaukee News: It wasn't the truth he told, but the truth that he didn't tell, that makes Steffens' article biased.

La Crosse Chronicle: Little German children in Milwaukee are to be taught English in the kindergarten. Now, this is real progress for Milwaukee.

Marquette Eagle-Star: The Western farmers who were burning corn for fuel under democratic rule are now burning up their mortgages.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: The preparation for sea-going by the remains of the Vladivostok squadron, a pointer, to the authorities at San Francisco, to enlarge their dismantling facilities.

Sheboygan Journal: J. P. Morgan was a central figure at the Washington peace exercises Sunday. The piece that Mr. Morgan usually seeks is the biggest on the plate.

Chicago Tribune: Until more important matters are out of the way, however, eruptions of Mount Vesuvius and feuds in Breathitt county, Ky., must not expect first page, top of the column positions.

La Crosse Leader-Press: Mr. Steffens says that Governor La Follette's fight in Wisconsin is for "self-government, not good government" and the Milwaukee Sentinel is unkind enough to admit that that is just what the governor is seeking.

Grant County News: Miss Stella Berthman, 17 years of age, who resides three miles south of Dodgeville, has earned the distinction of being the best milkmaid of her age in the state. The other day she milked thirty cows in three hours.

Superior Telegram: The missionaries used to say that the Jap language was an invention of the devil to prevent the spread of the gospel. Doubtless Gen. Kutoptakin thinks that Jap military strategy is also of the same origin.

Evening Wisconsin: Instead of talking to the stump to promote his political campaign, Mr. Dowle will talk to the air in balloons. There is a lightness about the way in which Dowle views things that ought to enable him to do without a balloon in this feature of his proposed work.

Madison Journal: Mr. M. G. Jeffris is touring the state and the republican state committee is arranging a series of speeches by other good talkers. They all have weight in reminding hearers that there are two sides to this administration. To increase the taxes to be paid by railroads is not the only department of human government.

Merrill Advocate: Gov. La Follette calls the just criticisms made against him and his administration "abuse," but he does not explain away the corruption within his own official family, nor tell why "reform" should not begin at home. These things are all to be accomplished when the party reins are turned over without reservation to him.

Whitewater Register: The Milwaukee common council has called his continued absence in Arizona upon Mayor Rose to show cause why it doesn't warrant the reduction of his salary. It is plain that if the same demand should be made and carried out in the case of our governor that Evansville Tribune: We are sorry that ethics prevent some physicians from giving us some very interesting items. It seems to us that it would be better if they would give us the whole facts and then tell us that part if any which they wished withheld from the public, than to let us depend upon unofficial hearsay and not always get the facts as they should be. Physicians and all should understand that the essence of a good newspaper is early news of all kinds and they should assist us in getting them correct instead of possible errors from their ethics preventing them from giving us the whole facts as they should be.

Milwaukee Sentinel: That the magazine articles so lavishly distributed in Wisconsin are grossly unjust to men like Senator Spooner, former Gov. Scofield, the late Senator Sawyer, and all who have dared to entertain and express opinions of their own that conflicted with the platform proclamations of the governor is well known to all Wisconsin men who have a knowledge of the facts. But what difference does that make? Gov. La Follette believes there are enough voters of all parties in this state who are ignorant and susceptible of influence to re-elect him. It is for the purpose of influencing them that he has enlisted the eastern periodicals in his cause and is spending somebody's money like a drunken sailor in distributing his literature among the voters.

IN JANESVILLE AND MILTON
JUNCTION YESTERDAY.

CALDWELL-SLAWSON NUPTIALS

Were Celebrated Here, and Campion-
Stewart Wedding Was Solemnized with Elaborate Ceremony.

James Caldwell and Miss Lea Slawson were wedded yesterday morning by Rev. Goebel. Roy Slawson acting as best man and Miss Clara Dayton as bridesmaid. The young couple are well and favorably known here, the bride having been a member of St. Mary's church choir for several years past. The choir members gave a china shower for her at the parish hall Monday evening. In the games indulged in Miss Kittle Driscoll won the first prize. After a wedding repast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slawson, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell departed on a honeymoon trip to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago.

Campion-Stewart

Elaborate ceremonies incident to the wedding of James Campion and Helen Stewart, both of the town of Harmony, were witnessed by many friends of the contracting parties at St. Mary's church yesterday morning.

Rev. F. G. Schneider of Milwaukee acted as deacon, and Rev. Goebel of Janesville, as sub-deacon. Members of St. Mary's choir of this city, under the direction of Prof. J. S. Taylor, sang the musical service. After a sumptuous dinner at the home of the bride's parents, the young couple departed on a wedding journey to St. Louis.

Grad-Hartig Wedding

Last evening at seven o'clock Rev. Koerner performed the ceremony which made life partners of John Grad and Lena Hartig. Gus Schmidt was best man and Miss Anna Hartig acted as bridesmaid while Fred Kulhlow and Miss Clara Nichols completed the bridal party. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served at the home of William Grad on Linn street and dancing followed, continuing until a late hour. The groom is employed in the Rock River Cotton Co.'s mills and the bride is a well-known and popular young lady. Both were the recipients of many handsome gifts. They will reside at 303 South Linn street. The report that there was any attempted charivari which necessitated the presence of the police is erroneous.

Wedded at Johnston

John A. Austin, son of the late Thomas H. and Caroline R. Austin, and Miss Mary Hume, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Hume, were wedded by Rev. Huey at the home of the bride's parents in Johnston last evening. The groom is a popular young business man and farmer residing near Johnston and the bride is a winsome young lady who has scores of friends throughout the city. After the ceremony and wedding repast the young couple departed on a honeymoon trip to St. Louis.

Coriell-Scanlan

This morning at 11 a. m. at St. Patrick's church, corner of Des Plaines and Adams streets, Chicago, Mary E. Scanlan of 55 Center avenue of this city and Edwin H. Coriell of Chicago were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Father Sheridan officiated.

WERE HERE LOOKING OVER THE GROUND

Four Gentlemen from Milwaukee
Interested in New Artificial Stone
Plant in City Yesterday.

were here looking half

Messrs. Spoor, Potter, Walwig, and Meurer of Milwaukee were in the city yesterday looking over the location of the new Silicon Brick & Stone Co. plant. They brought parties with them from Indiana, northern Michigan, and Chicago, who wish to furnish the machinery for manufacturing the building material. Mr. Butler of Chicago is proceeding with all possible haste in getting things in readiness for making cast stone and litholite, which is understood to be a high grade material much in demand in Milwaukee. The gentlemen have ample means and are determined to make the plant here a success. A manager from Milwaukee will be sent here to take charge as soon as the work is well under way.

JOE CANTILLON IS NOT WEALTHY

Tells the Court a Man is Poor Who Plays Base Ball Now Days.

According to Joe Cantillon, a former Janesville resident, it does not pay to be a baseball magnate. When Mr. Cantillon was before a court in Milwaukee yesterday in a suit regarding a judgment against him for $200 he announced that aside from his $2,000 salary he receives as manager of the Milwaukee baseball team, he has no property and that the last portion of this salary—four dollars—was recently drawn.

THIEF MADE CALL AT LOWELL STORE

And Carried Away a Valuable Coat at Nine O'clock Last Evening—Police Called.

Lowell's store on South River street was visited last evening about nine o'clock by a thief who succeeded in getting away with a valuable coat. A farmer's wife who was sitting in a wagon near the store stated that she saw the man take the garment and hurry away with it into the darkness. Officers Morrissey and Cox were notified but were unable to locate the marauder.

LONG SERVICE IS WELL REWARDED

C. E. Ranous Will Be Placed on the Pension Roll of Northwestern
Next Month.

After thirty-nine years of continuous service with the Chicago & North-Western railroad, C. E. Ranous, at present freight agent at the local depot, will be placed upon the pension roll of the company on October 1, next. Mr. Ranous began his railroad work at Watertown in 1865 and remained in this city as ticket agent until 1872 when he came to the Janesville station as freight agent which position he has since held. Mr. Ranous holds the remarkable record of having served under six different superintendents and never having been disciplined or censured during his thirty-nine years of service. Owing to ill health he will retire from active work at the present time and may possibly spend the winter in El Paso. Mr. Ranous has made many warm friends in his present capacity and they will miss his presence at the depot.

ROB THE BLIND OF THEIR MONEY

MYSTERIOUS MR. BRADY BOR-ROWS MORE MONEY.

NOW PICKS TWO BLIND BOYS

Leo Lange and Walter Goetzinger
Are Victimized by the Oily Mouthed Gentleman.

Mysterious Mr. C. H. Brady has been heard from again. This time he played the same old game upon two blind musicians at the state fair and the proceeds from this adventure netted him thirty-five dollars. Despite the efforts of his former Janesville friends who have not only been victimized by this unscrupulous individual but whose names have been used to aid him in securing money from others Brady still seems to be at large and able to borrow money where and when he will.

Same Old Game.
He played the same old game in Milwaukee and his two victims, Walter Goetzinger and Leo Lange, loaned him thirty-five dollars to return to Janesville with on the promise it would be returned to them as soon as he returned. He told them the same old story that he had lost his purse, and this time added a wife to his pitiful tale, which so moved these two blind musicians that they promptly loaned him their available cash. Of course they have not heard from him since.

Many Victims.
George S. Parker's name was used successfully for a good sized sum in Ohio, recently. J. C. Kline of the Y. M. C. A. had the pleasure of knowing he had a worthless brother who touched Superintendent Hutton at the Waukesha reform school that he knew nothing of. A prominent grocer felt his gentle touch on near relatives, and others have been more or less annoyed by the free use of their names. There is a state warrant out for his arrest and it is probable that he will be apprehended before long.

WHITEHEAD COMES IN FOR TIRADE

La Follette Turns on the Senator as He Is Listening to His Address at La Crosse.

The most sensational feature of Gov. La Follette's sensational tour of the La Crosse county, in his effort to defeat the re-nomination of Senator Gavenny, occurred at Bangor Thursday morning when the governor, speaking to 500 people, discovered Senator Whitehead in the audience, and launched a bitter tirade against the state senate, and particularly Senator Whitehead, saying:
"I don't blame the big interests for being stalwarts." It pays them. We will get $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 for the state from the railroads as the result of an investigation now under way, but the bill providing for checking up the receipts of the railroads from freight rates was defeated in the senate by such men as Whitehead, Gavenny, and Eaton. You have heard of Whitehead, haven't you?" he asked as the audience, attracted by the governor's motions, turned en masse and stared at Senator Whitehead, who sat calm and unruffled, making no effort to reply.

DR. TREVER TAKES A NEW POSITION

Former Pastor of Court Street Methodist Church Goes to Atlanta Seminary.

Dr. George H. Trever of Whitewater, formerly pastor of the Court Street Methodist church of this city, at present a resident of Whitewater, has been elected to the professorship of Exegetical theology in the Gammon Theological seminary at Atlanta, Georgia. He will leave his abode at Whitewater at once and go to his new work. Dr. Trever is eminently qualified for his new duties. He graduated at the head of his class in the ancient classical course in Lawrence university in 1881. He took the first prize for scholarship in Lawrence for four consecutive years, an achievement not equaled before or since. He took the theological course in Boston university, took the degree of Ph. D. from that institution in 1884. As a fellow of the Boston university he spent a year in Berlin university and a year in Oxford, England. Lawrence university gave him the degree of D. D. He is the author of numerous articles in church papers and magazines and some years ago published a work entitled "Studies in Comparative Theology," which received much praise from competent critics. He has been a member of two general conferences of the Methodist church and a reserve delegate once. Dr. Trever has occupied the Methodist pulpits as pastor in Beloit, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Milwaukee, and Whitewater.

FIRE LADDIES AT MYERS' KITCHEN

Floor Boards Underneath Cooking
Range Were Ignited by Heat
This Morning.

At 9:55 this morning the patrol and No. 1 fire company responded to a still alarm from the Myers House. This is the second time within three weeks that trouble has arisen from the same cause. There being insufficient air-space under the range in the kitchen the asbestos and metal protections beneath became heated to such a degree as to ignite the underlying boards. The fire was quickly put out with the chemical engine and the management will at once put in a concrete floor for the stove to rest on.

AGED RESIDENT DIED WEDNESDAY

S. S. Northrup, a Pioneer of Rock
County, Passed Away Late Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon at his home in the village of Clinton a respected and honored pioneer of Rock county passed from this life into the life eternal. S. S. Northrup was a native of New York born at Tully Valley, Onondaga county, in 1824. In 1845 he came to Wisconsin and settled on a farm on Jefferson prairie in the town of Clinton. He has frequently been called by his neighbors to serve them in the various offices of the town and always performed his duties unselfishly and well. He has also served his town, as well as the whole county, as a painstaking and intelligent member of the county board for a number of terms. In 1860 he was elected from his assembly district as a member of the legislature and filled that position in a most acceptable and able manner. As a citizen Mr. Northrup was public spirited, always taking a lively interest in the things that made for the betterment of his fellow citizens. He lived to see his adopted home pass from a territorial stage to be one of the foremost states of the union, and in its progress and in the end means which contributed to such progress he always felt a justifiable pride. He was an upright, honorable and just man, positive in his nature, but always open and frank and amenable to reason. While he might honestly differ with others he made no enemies, because he recognized the right of private opinion and judgment and did not hold it an offense in a man to differ with him. He was a man without malice, kind, gentle and considerate. In his youth he learned the lesson of self-reliance, and like so many of the pioneers of our country, whose numbers are so rapidly and sadly diminishing, he leaves behind him a character worthy not only of our respect and veneration but of our imitation. Of his immediate family Mr. Northrup is survived by his three children, Jennie B. Northrup and Walter H. Northrup of Clinton and Lenora M. Northrup who resides in Milwaukee. His wife died in 1901. He also leaves one brother, J. D. Northrup of Clinton, and one sister, Mrs. M. A. Marshall of Beloit. The funeral service will be held at Clinton, Friday, afternoon at two o'clock.

MORE HONORS FOR CHARLES CONRAD

Governor's Trusted Lieutenant Made
Oil Inspector of the Whole County.

Charles Conrad is now oil inspector for the whole of Rock county. The new honors were thrust upon him in recognition for the work he has been doing for the administration in this city. The announcement of the change came last evening when Mr. Conrad was informed by the administration officials that Ray A. North of Beloit had been removed and that in the future he would have his territory as well as the northern half of the county. Mr. North's removal is said to be for political reasons and Mr. Conrad's promotion a reward for the work he is doing in the present campaign for the governor.

BOYS ARE WAITING FOR THE "FALL FEED"

Tempers of Baptist Church Have a Banquet October 14—Elect New Officers Tomorrow Night.

About fifty boys of the Baptist church, organized under the name of Tempers, are now looking forward with particular interest as is natural to boys to a "fall feed" that is planned for them for Friday, October 14. This kind of banquet is novel and especially appealing to the nature of a boy. The club has had one meeting this season and at their regular meeting tomorrow night will elect officers. At their last meeting Miss Mary Barker talked very interestingly of her visit in the city of Rome. Different plans of programs will be carried out this year, probably one of which will be a debate among the boys.

Persian Remedy for Extortion.
They have curious methods in Persia of insuring law and order. A failure of the crops had resulted in a dear loaf, which much enraged the populace. In order to quell the tumult, the Shah ordered a number of balers to receive several hundred strokes with a rod, besides a few minor little attentions, such as the amputation of an ear or two.

Stole Little Boy's Shoes.
An English thief was arrested whose method was to induce little boys to take off their shoes in order to run a race, and leave him in charge of the shoes. When they returned, breathless, he and the shoes were gone.

Mary Ott

This morning at two o'clock Mary Ott aged three months daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ott passed away from the home of her parents on North bluff street. The funeral will be from the house tomorrow morning at nine o'clock the Rev. Father W. A. Goebel officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Melvin Kettle
The funeral of Melvin Kettle was held from the house in the town of Janesville yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. Reverend Vaughan officiated and the interment was in Oak Hill cemetery. Four boys, friends of the deceased, acted as pallbearers.

The pall bearers at the funeral of the late Mrs. Francis Turner were: Will Scrivens, Roy Williams, Bert Dudley and Webb Dudley.

Returned and Faced Music: Edward Hennessey and Charles Young, who committed the assault on the Minneapolis traveling man on his refusal to pay an alleged gambling debt returned from Rockford yesterday and appeared in municipal court this morning. On their pleas of guilty each was fined $20 and costs amounting to $2.50. Settlement of $37.50 was made with Pringle's attorneys. He was not in the city to appear against them.

HARVEST TO BE BOUNTIFUL

Frost is No Longer Much To Be Feared, According to Footville Optimist.

"Corn stalks twelve feet tall. Great golden ears big enough to kill a horse. The greatest crop since 1885." This is the report of W. L. Kellogg of his flourishing farm between Footville and Beaver. He lives near Beloit and stopped in Janesville today on his return from a tour of inspection of his holdings. There are twenty-five acres of this Washington monument growth and even if the frost comes right away Mr. Kellogg believes it will be safe. He would like ten days more of good weather, however. Neighbors as well as himself, have fared well he declares. There is a big crop that has almost reached maturity on the Ira Fisher farm near by. The majority of the farmers in that section of the county however, are growing beets and tobacco.

Should Be "Topped".
Mr. Kellogg believes that his big crop could have been improved somewhat by the topping process such as they employ back in New York state. "Why ears on that corn of mine are three inches above the head of the tenant and he is six feet two inches in height. If the tops had been cut off just above the ears we would have had bigger results in corn and still plenty of stalks."

Bulls All Crops.
The Beloit man is an optimist. He says that this has also been a great year for apples. There are a few apples around Footville, but a big crop is being harvested in the vicinity of Cataline. "If we were running this world to suit ourselves we couldn't do better," says Mr. Kellogg. Mr. Kellogg came to Rock county in 1854. He is seventy years of age but his muscles are still like iron and he has a grip like a vise.

WARD TEAMS ARE NOW BEING FORMED

Many Minor Games Are Promised by the Present Activity of Football Enthusiasts.

There will be no lack of football games in the city this autumn, judging from present indications. With the high school team and the team to play at Yost's Park a large number of games are assured, but besides this the ward teams are now organizing and the smaller boys are turning overalls into football pants and cloth and cotton into head guards. The first ward will be represented in the ward class by Briggs' team, which has been the first ward team for several years. The line-up for this team is as follows: fb, Edward Krueger; pb, C. Briggs; c, C. Corwin; lb, Ed. Blow; rh, G. Marshall; le, R. Rowland; lt, J. Wells; lg, Hermann; rg, W. Warn; rt, S. Campbell; re, Clithero.

Teams are also being organized now among the enthusiasts in the Second and Fourth wards, but it is doubtful whether there will be a Monterey team this year. The second ward team has no game as yet scheduled but expect to play several on Bunker hill. They line-up as follows: fb, F. Hutchinson; qb, J. Hall; lbs, W. Tyler and C. Whittier; le, Wilbur (Capt.); lt, Stendal; lg, Biers; c, Woodruff; rg, Haslam; rt, W. Brown; re, Wright and Lighthizer.

SPOONER NEARLY READY FOR ARTICLE

The Senator Will Tell a Few Facts
Concerning the Good Mr.
Stephenson and Others.

The answer of Senator John C. Spooner to Lincoln J. Steffens' article in McClure's Magazine will be ready for publication today or Friday. It is to be placed in printed form and proofs will be given to the papers.

It is understood the article denies emphatically the statement made by Isaac Stephenson that money was used to secure the election of John C. Spooner to the United States senate and refers to scathing terms to Mr. Stephenson's own campaign in 1899 for senatorial honors. Some history of the scandals which have attended the La Follette administration are also said to be detailed at length in the Spooner communication.

Another statement from inside sources is to the effect the article will be confined solely to the facts in regard to his election to the United States senate and that the Wisconsin situation will not be touched. The article promises to be of such a character as to add another sensational chapter to the political history of Wisconsin which has already been full to overflowing of sensational incidents during the last four years.

NU-TRI-OLA

The Yellow Holly

By FERGUS HUME.
Author of "The Mystery of a Hansom Cab," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by G. W. Dillingham Company

"By that time Mrs. Jersey had left. I had another nurse, and it was she who took me to this house. My grandfather was delighted to have me, as he always insisted that there was a marriage. I grew up here and went to school, afterward to college. My grandfather died, but there was just enough money to finish my education. The house was sold, and by a curious coincidence Mrs. Jersey took it as a boarding establishment. Where else got the money I don't know. But I passed out of her life as a mere infant, and I don't suppose she thought anything more about me. Perhaps she recognized me tonight from my likeness to my father, as she mentioned that she had seen my face before. But I can't say."

"What became of your father?"

"That is the tragic part of the story. He was murdered at a masked ball at San Remo. The assassin was never discovered, but he was supposed to be some passionate Italian lover. My grandfather Lockwood was so angry at the way in which his daughter had been treated that he never stood up for my rights. I would not do so either, but that I love Miss Ward. Now, it is my intention to see Mrs. Jersey to-morrow and get the truth out of her."

"What does she know?"

"She knows where the marriage was celebrated and can prove that my birth is legitimate. That is why I came here, Leonard."

"Why did you not speak to her to-night?"

"I think it is better she should be in a quieter frame of mind," said Brendon.

"She has never seen me since I was a small child, and my name of Brendon is quite unknown to her."

"Why do you call yourself Brendon?" asked Train.

George began to pace up and down the room.

"Pride made me do that," he declared.

"When my father was murdered at San Remo, Lord Derrington denied the marriage and refused to do anything for me. My grandfather Lockwood gave me his own name, and was called George Lockwood for many a long day. At the age of fifteen Mr. Lockwood died, and then a note came to my guardian saying that Lord Derrington proposed to allow me a small income."

"For what reason?"

"I can't say. Perhaps it was remorse."

Train shook his head. "I have met Lord Derrington, and if such an old tartar feels remorse, then there is a chance that things may fly."

"That's an elegant illustration, Leonard," observed George, with a smile; "but to continue (as I see it is nearly 11), even as a boy I felt the indignity put upon me. I refused, with the permission of my guardian, the offered sum and continued at school. When I left to go to college I changed my name so that Lord Derrington should not have the chance of insulting me further or of knowing who I was. My guardian suggested Brendon, so, as that was as good a name as another, I took it. Hence Mrs. Jersey can't possibly know me or why I came to her. She will be wiser in the morning," added Brendon grimly.

"But she evidently saw in you some likeness to your father."

"Evidently. From all I have heard Mrs. Jersey was in love with my father, even though she was only a lady's maid. But I know very little about her. My business here is to learn."

"But why has she kept silent all these years?"

Brendon shrugged his shoulders. "She has had no inducement to speak out," he said. "That is why I wish you to lend me $300, Leonard. She will require a bribe."

"And a larger one than that, George. A woman like Mrs. Jersey would not put such a secret for so small a sum."

"Oh, I can pay her what she demands when in possession of the estates. But at present she will want to see the color of my money."

Train stared into the fire, meditating on this queer story, which was quite a romance. Then he saw an obstacle. "George," he said, "even if you prove that you are the heir, you won't get any money. Lord Derrington is still living."

"Yes, and from all accounts he means to go on living, like the truculent old tyrant he is. But the estates are entailed and must come to me when he dies, and of course the title is mine, too, when he is done with it. If Mrs. Jersey learns these facts she will come to terms on a promise of money when I inherit."

"Then you will speak to her in the morning?"

"Yes. She is the only person who can right me. But I mean to be the husband of Dorothy Ward, and my only chance to get round the mother is to prove my legitimacy."

"I don't think Miss Ward cares much for her mother."

"Who could?" asked Brendon cynically. "She is a worthless little canny bird. But I tell you, Leonard, that, frivolous as Mrs. Ward appears to be, she is a most determined woman, with an iron will. She will make her daughter do as she bids and will sell her to the highest bidder. As Lord Derrington's grandson and acknowledged heir I have a good chance. As George Brendon she stopped as the clock struck 11—"as George Brendon I am going to bed."

Train rose to light the candles which stood on a side table, yawning as he did so. He was much interested in Brendon's story, but the telling of it had tired him. "I shall sleep like a top tonight."

"Well, get to bed. I'll put out the lamp," said George, and did so.

"No," said Leonard, taking a candlestick in either hand. "I'll see you to your couch, and he preceded him into the bedroom."

It was a quaint apartment, with heavy mahogany furniture and a Turkey carpet. Entering from the sitting room, George saw that the bed was directly opposite the door. "It's been moved since my time."

"What," cried Leonard, setting down the candles, "is the furniture the same your grandfather had?"

"Yes. Mrs. Jersey bought the house and its contents. They are old-fashioned enough in all conscience. It's years and years since I slept in my old bed," said Brendon, taking off his coat. "I should dream the dreams of childhood now that I am back again. But you needn't say anything of this, Leonard."

"Of course not," replied the other. "And you need not sunnish your yellow holly by leaving it in your coat all night. Put it in water."

"No," George stopped the too glib Leonard. "Dorothy put it into my coat and there it shall remain. The berries are firm and won't fall. I'll see to that. Hush!"

"What's the matter?" asked Train, startled.

For answer Brendon quickly extinguished both candles and pointed to the door of the sitting room, which stood half open. "Not a word," he murmured to Train, grasping his wrist to enforce attention. "I heard a footstep."

The two men stood in the darkness, silent and with beating hearts. A glimmer of light came from the fire and struck across into the bedroom. Leonard listened with all his ears. He distinctly heard stealthy footsteps coming along the passage. The footstep paused at the sitting room door. They heard this open, and secretly dared to breathe. Some one entered the room and waited for a moment or so, evidently listening. Then the door was opened and closed again and the footstep died away. Even then Brendon stopped Leonard from lighting the candles.

"Go to bed in the dark," he said softly.

"Was it Mrs. Jersey?" asked Leonard.

"Of course it was. She came to see if you were in bed."

"But why should she?"

"I can't say. There's something queer about that old woman. Get to bed, Leonard. You can light your candle in your own room. I shall not light mine."

Train was bursting with indignation. "But it's absurd to be treated like a couple of schoolboys," he said, taking his candlestick.

"There's more in it than that," said Brendon, pushing him to the door. "Get to bed and make no noise. We can talk in the morning."

Train darted across the sitting room and retired. Brendon closed his door softly and listened again. There was no return of the footstep, so he slipped into bed without relighting the candle. The clock in the sitting room chimed a quarter past 11.

CHAPTER III.

THE kitchen in the basement of Mrs. Jersey's house was a large stone apartment and even on the brightest of days not very well lighted. On this particular morning the gas was burning and was likely to continue alight during the day, as the fog was as thick as ever. The servants collected round the table were having an early cup of tea. To assist the progress of digestion they talked of their mistress and of the boarders. Miss Bull in particular seemed to be dissatisfied.

"She's a sly cat, with that white face of hers," said the cook. "Twice she said the soup was burnt. I never liked her."

"Madame don't, either," said Jarvey, the errand boy, ruffling his short hair. "They've been quarrelling awful. I shouldn't wonder if madame gave her notice."

"Ah, Miss Margery will have something to say to that," chimed in the housemaid; "she likes Miss Bull."

"Cause Miss Bull makes much of her and no one else does," said Jarvey.

"Well, for my part," said the cook, "I'm always civil to Miss Bull, though she is a cat. If the mistress died, Miss Margery would govern the house, and Miss Bull governs her. I don't want to lose no good situation through bad manners. Here's madame's tea. Take it to her sitting room. She's sure to be up and waiting."

Jarvey went grumbling up the stairs. Mrs. Jersey was an early riser and usually had a cup of tea in her sitting room at 7 o'clock. After this refresher she gave audience to the cook, looked over her tradesman's books and complained generally that the servants were not doing their duty. Madame was not at her best in the morning, and Jarvey went up most unwillingly. When the boy went the servants continued chatting and eating. It was just on 7 and they were reluctantly rising to begin their duties when a crash was heard and then a clatter of boots.

"There," cried the cook, "that brat's been and smashed the tray. Won't madame give it to him? Mercy."

mercy!"—her voice leaped an octave—"he's mad!"

"This was because Jarvey, with his hair on end and his face perfectly white, tore into the kitchen. He raced round and round the table, his eyes staring from his head. The servants huddled together in fear, and the cook seized the tastering fork. They all agreed with her that the page was mad. Suddenly Jarvey tumbled in a heap and began to moan, with his face on the floor. "Oh, the blood—the blood!"

"What's he saying about blood?" asked the scullery maid.

Jarvey leaped to his feet. "She's dead! She's murdered!" he shrieked. "I see her all covered with blood. Oh, mother—oh, I want my mother!" And down he dropped on the floor again, kicking and screaming.

The boy was scared out of his life, and the other servants, headed by the valet, ran up the stairs and burst into madame's sitting room, which was on the ground floor and no great distance from the front door. The next moment they were out again, all shrieking murder and calling loudly for the police. The sleeping boarders took the alarm and in the lightest of attire appeared on the stairs with white faces. The terrible word shrieked by a dozen voices through the silent house curdled the blood in their aged veins.

"She's dead! She's murdered!"

An hour later the police were in the house, summoned by Miss Bull, who alone of the boarders retained her head. As Margery, who was next in command after her aunt, could not be brought to do anything Miss Bull took charge. It was Miss Bull who first ventured into the sitting room where madame, huddled up in a chair drawn to the table, lay face downward in such a position as to reveal a gaping wound in her neck, and it was Miss Bull who sent the servants back to the kitchen, who closed the door of the death chamber and who told Jarvey to fetch the nearest policeman. Consequently it was Miss Bull whom the inspector addressed, as she seemed to be the sole person in authority. The little old maid from being a nonentity became a person of first class importance. She displayed perfect tact and self control in dealing with the terrified old men and women, and no one would have given her credit for such generalship. But the hour had come for Miss Bull to assert herself, and she proved to be equal to the occasion.

"Now, then," said the inspector when he had posted his men and was alone with Miss Bull in the drawing room, "what do you know of this?"

Miss Bull, her face white and drawn, her eyes sharper than ever and her manner perfectly composed, shook her head. "I know absolutely nothing," she said in her monotonous voice. "Last night we had our usual reception, but it broke up at 10 o'clock. Madame dismissed the guests at that hour and stood in the doorway to do so. I retired to my bedroom with madame's niece, and after a game of patience I went to bed."

"Does Mrs. Jersey's niece sleep with you?"

"Margery? No, she sleeps in a room above. I was a few minutes to 11 when she left me. I was in bed shortly after the clock struck the hour. I am sure Margery had nothing to do with it. She was quite devoted to her aunt, and as the poor girl has no money I don't know how she will live."

"That madame is dead."

"The room is not far from the front door," insisted Inspector Quex. "Could any one have entered?"

"No, I am sure of that," put in Miss Bull emphatically. "Madame always locked the front door every night herself and kept the key. It could not be opened in the morning until she chose."

"Who opened it this morning?"

"I did. I knew that the key would be in madame's pocket."

"And it was?"

"Yes. She must have locked the door as usual and then have gone to put the light out in her sitting room before going upstairs."

"Was that before 11?"

"I can't say. I did not leave my room after 10. But Margery may have seen some one as she went up to her bedroom when she left me."

"I'll question the girl," said Quex, and entered the sitting room.

PEORIA PLANS BIG EXPOSITION.

Will Arrange Fine Attraction for the Season of 1905.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 29.—Peoria will give an exposition in 1905, combining agricultural and manufacturing interests, and invite patronage from the middle West. At a meeting called by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association a stock company was organized and a plan of action outlined. The capital will be placed at $250,000, and prospects are excellent for an early subscription.

ADDS $17,000 TO FOREIGN FUND

Yale Society Gets Money for Missionaries' Death in China.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—Yale university has received $17,000 in gold from the British government, to be placed to the credit of the Yale foreign mission, which is located in Changsha, China. The money represents the amount paid by the Chinese government for the murder of two English missionaries in Hunan two years ago. The missionary society to which the murdered missionaries belonged refused as a matter of principle to accept a cash gift as payment for the murder. The Chinese government declined to take back the gift. The British government, to which the sum had been paid over, had no claim on it. A number of English missionary societies refused to take the money, which now goes to the Yale Missionary society.

W. H. HARROUN DENIES CHARGES.

Grain Dealer Pleads Not Guilty to Issuing Bogus Receipts.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 29.—W. H. Harroun, the grain dealer, was arraigned in the criminal court on the charge of issuing fraudulent warehouse receipts. Through his attorney he pleaded not guilty and he was released on bond for $2,500. The specific charge against Harroun is that he, as president of the Belt Elevator company, issued a warehouse receipt for 10,000 bushels of wheat said to be in the elevator, when, as a matter of fact, the information sets forth, the wheat was not there.

TOM LAWSON HAS PNEUMONIA

Author of "Frenzied Finance" Overworks and Breaks Down.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—Thos. W. Lawson, author of "Frenzied Finance" and foe of H. H. Rogers and the Standard Oil interests, is suffering from an attack of pneumonia, and is in a private hospital. The final collapse of Mr. Lawson, his physicians say, was due to his persistence in remaining at his work after he had been ordered to remain at home. He insisted on coming to his office daily from Dramwood, his country estate on the south shore.

Large Inheritance Tax.

High Class Druggists AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

Savages First to Use Mortar.

Mortar was made by the people of Tahiti when our ancestors were shivering in holes in the rocks. They dived into the sea, brought up great lumps of coral, burned them in pits, using wood as fuel, and mixed the lime they got in this fashion with sharp sand and water. With this mixture the ingenious savage plastered the walls and floor of his house, and a better mortar could not be obtained.

IT'S A WONDERFUL REMEDY

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY

Local Druggists Guarantee Its Efficacy or Make No Charge

We want everybody suffering from any disorder of the stomach, bowels or liver to call at our store and get a full size bottle of "Seven Barks"—the great German stomach and liver regulator. As an evidence of good faith, we ask a deposit of 50 cents—but if, after taking according to directions, the remedy does not accomplish all that is claimed, return the empty or partly used bottle and your money will be cheerfully handed back.

We could not afford to make a guarantee of this kind, were we not positive of our position. "Seven Barks" is not an untried remedy. It has been on the market for 35 years with astonishing success.

There is no remedy on earth that keeps its friends longer than "Seven Barks." There are thousands of American families never without a bottle, nor have they been without for 20 years. Grandmothers, mothers and children are all enthusiastic in their praise. Don't postpone calling for a bottle. You will not regret it.

PREDICT THAT HINSHAW WILL BE GIVEN FREEDOM

Powerful Influences Are Being Exerted to Secure Release of Preacher Convicted of Murder.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29.—Special interest is attached to the quarterly meeting of the state pardon board, now in progress, because of the possibility that some recommendation may be made for the pardon of W. E. Hinshaw, the preacher convicted of murder. There are rumors that action will be taken by the board, as only one more meeting is to be held before the expiration of the administration of Gov. Durbin in January, and it is known that great pressure has been brought to bear on the governor to dispose of the matter before he leaves office.

A member of the board said that, contrary to rumors, no petition for the pardon of Hinshaw had ever been received by the board, and that no one representing him had ever appeared before the board in his behalf. C. V. Elmer of Crawfordsville, a member of the board, said that the board had been informed that a petition either from Hinshaw or his relatives would reach the board before its adjournment. The members of the board say they do not know what shape the petition will come in.

A sixty-day parole was granted Hinshaw by Gov. Durbin last Christmas to visit his sick mother, and at the end of the parole Hinshaw returned to prison unaccompanied. He has powerful influence at work for him, and residents of Randolph county, his home, predict that Gov. Durbin will recommend his pardon to the board at this or its next session in December.

BEQUESTS EXCEED A MILLION

Mrs. Sarah Potter Wins Large Sums to Public Institutions.

Boston, Sept. 29.—Public bequests aggregating over $1,000,000, the largest being a gift of $250,000 to the city of New Bedford, are contained in the will of the late Mrs. Sarah Potter of this city. Mrs. Potter died Sept. 23 at her summer home at Beverly. To the Boston medical library is bequeathed $150,000; to the kindergarten for the blind at Jamaica Plains, $100,000, and $50,000 each to six other institutions.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS OVERCOME OBSTACLES

Plucky Band of College Boys Aid in Tracing Source of Chagres River for Canal Commission.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 29.—George Ehle, with a party of young college graduates, in four months has made discoveries about the Panama canal which the French engineers failed to make in fifteen years. His information makes it possible to solve the baffling problem of the Chagres river freshets by diverting the stream to the Pacific coast. It also releases $20,000,000 for excavating a sea level waterway.

This announcement of the engineering work thus far done by the United States Panama canal commission was made before the Chicago Press club by Chief Engineer John F. Wallace, who recently returned from the isthmus.

"In their explorations," said the chief engineer, "Resident Engineer George Ehle and his college lads endured hardships that if took American pluck to overcome. They spent four months in the tropical jungle tracing the course and source of the Chagres river, whose spring freshets, sometimes forty feet high, so far have proved an insuperable obstacle to a sea level canal project."

By the use of data collected by the Ehle party Mr. Wallace said that it would be possible to divert the Chagres from the Caribbean slope to the Pacific side of the isthmus. This could be done at an approximate cost of $16,000,000, releasing $20,000,000 of the $36,000,000 destined for the construction of locks.

The following comments upon conditions as he found them were made by Mr. Wallace:

"The French did everything in the world on the isthmus except dig the canal."

"My three months in Panama were no worse than a summer in St. Louis."

"The American people's debt of gratitude to the French is that they showed us what not to do."

"Panama is healthy, but no man who goes there and drinks champagne will keep healthy long."

"Had the canal been built on the Levee plan, it would not now accommodate a single ship of the United States navy."

Discomfited Lawyer.

During the last session of the Circuit court in a small town in southern Wisconsin a well-known Badger lawyer came to grief by being just a little too sharp. According to his habit, he was browbeating one of the witnesses. "Now, Mr. Jones," said he, "you can answer that question a little more clearly. You are not as green as you look." "Yes," drawled the witness in reply, "I am a butcher by profession and not a lawyer."
